现在是听力试听时间。

M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we are a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club—we have about 50 members at the moment, but we are growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er, what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages—you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday—Spanish; Tuesday—Italian; Wednesday—German; and Friday—French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now you can have the first month free.

W: Did you see our job ad over the Internet or in a newspaper?

M: Over the Internet. There are a lot of things out there.

W: Why would you like to work for a company like ours?

M: Well, from what I have researched, I think working with your company would be very challenging and would also give me the opportunity to learn with experts in my field.

W: What other qualities do you have?

M: Well, besides the experience that I have, I also feel that I'm a quick learner who can work in a team or alone.

W: Do you know anyone who works in the company at the moment?

M: Yes, I have several friends who are working here.

M: Good afternoon. I would like to speak with the manager, please.

W: Why? What's your problem?

M: Well, I just picked up a TV set at your store yesterday afternoon and when I was taking it out of the car it accidentally fell. It looks OK, but the picture is pretty unclear. Do you think I can have someone look at it or get it changed?

W: OK. I will talk to the manager about it right now. Please wait a moment.

M: OK. Thank you.

W: Well, we can have someone repair it for you, but as it was caused by you, I'm afraid you have to pay for half of the repair fee, and we will pay the other half.

M: That will be fine. Thank you.

M: Hello, Helen. You look bad. Is everything OK?

W: Oh, hello, Tom. Yes, I'm fine, thanks. I'm just a bit tired this morning, that's all.

M: Why's that? Did you stay up last night?

W: Not at all, but I had this dream and it woke me up, so I didn't get much sleep. I dreamt that I was walking through a forest at night. I couldn't see anything.

M: That sounds frightening.

W: In my dream I saw a white light behind some trees. It was a strange light because it seemed to get bigger and then smaller, as if it was alive. At first I just stood where I was, but then the light seemed to move towards me and I could see something in it, like the face of an old man. I tried to run away, but my feet felt very heavy and I couldn't even walk. That's when I woke up. I was shaking all over.

M: How terrible! I've had dreams like that, too.

Welcome to the United States, ladies and gentlemen. Now I'd like to tell you what you should do when you become ill. If you feel sick and want to see a doctor, check with the manager of your hotel. They may call a doctor for you. American doctors are busy all the time, and it may be difficult to see the doctor immediately, especially if you are well enough to go to the doctor's office. If you have difficulty explaining what is troubling you in English, your tour guide may be able to help you.

You may also go to the nearest hospital, especially if you require immediate attention. If you are seriously hurt and alone, call 911 and the operator there will get help for you. Don't be frightened if you're taken to the hospital. In the United States, people are often taken to hospitals so that doctors can use the special machines and services for tests and treatment.

短文改错

Today I went to a store for a quickly look. There was a little girl holding a large colorful toy. She asked her dad to buy them for her. It was only $ 5.00 and he disagreed because he he couldn't afford it. She looked not satisfying but accepted his decision polite . When the man goes to the other end of the shop to look at something, I asked if he would mind my buying the toy for her child. He agreed. I bought the toy and gave it the girl. I saw see the delighted expressions on their face and felt thanks from the Dad and the child.

书面表达

One possible version:
Dear Peter,

I am glad to read your information on the Internet. To be your friend, I'd like to introduce myself to you. I was born in 1999 in Beijing. I am a student of No. 1 middle school. I am good at playing football and fond of reading.

As a high school student, I am poor at English, so I always want to look for someone who can help me improve it. I think you are the right one. I hope you can tell me how to learn English well and share something about the British customs and festivals. I think we can keep in touch by sending e-mails. As long as I'm free, I will write some e-mails to you to tell you what's going on with me. Best wishes.

I am looking forward to your reply.

Yours,
Li Hua
