Libraries give kids a quiet and safe place to read and learn. For over 100 years, libraries have played an important role in Americans' education. But how are these book-filled buildings changing with the times? You may be surprised to find out.

Benjamin Franklin famously founded (创建) America's first lending library in 1731. But the public library system got its biggest development in the American history in the late 1800's. Businessman Andrew Carnegie donated (捐献) millions of dollars to help build free public libraries across the country. Between 1886 and 1919, Carnegie's donations helped build 1,679 new libraries.

Carnegie believed that libraries could offer the chances to Americans, young and old. He knew that the more libraries there were, the more people would have opportunities to read and use books, speeches and news.

If you can easily find a public library in your community(社区), you'll get more chances. After all, the United States has 9,225 public libraries. Today, libraries keep growing. Seven tenths of the libraries have free Internet. It provides much more information and opportunities to ask for jobs online.

Libraries are also teaching kids about the fun of reading. The new program Read! Build! Play! adds reading into playtime. As kids listen to a book that is being read aloud, they use Legos (乐高积木) to build images(图像) from the story happily. Today's libraries are always looking for creative programs to bring people into the library.

Benjamin Franklin once said, "The doors of wisdom(智慧) are never shut." As long as the doors of public libraries are open, what he said is most certainly correct!

Good Manners While Traveling

Boys and girls,

With the development of the society, more and more people would like to travel during their holidays. So we hope everyone can show their good manners while traveling. Here are some things that we need to pay more attention to.

Firstly, before getting on the bus, we should stand in line and get on the bus one by one. When we are on a bus, we should give our seats to the old or the woman with a child. Secondly, don't speak loudly in public.

Thirdly, we mustn't write or draw on the wall or anywhere else. We should take away the litter and put it into the litter box.

Fourthly, if there is a sign "No camera" , we should follow the rule and don't take photos.

If we follow these rules, I'm sure we'll have a good trip and we'll be respected by others.
